Section C - Descriptions and Specifications

A SOW

"Human Systems Integration (HSI) System & Subsytem Integration Support"

1.0. General: The contractor shall assist the government with oversight and analysis of the Human System Integration (HSI) program requirements and system level planning. The contractor shall provide technical support to the Block 04 Test Bed program with the system prime contractor (PC) and Subcontractor elements. The contractor shall provide technical support in system safety, manpower, personnel and training, human factors engineering, and personnel survivability domains, as applicable. The contractor shall provide logistics technical assistance to support site activation, contractor life-cycle support (LCS) definition, and manpower, personnel, and training (MPT) assessments in the HSI environments. In addition to the general support listed here, the contractor shall provide specific technical assistance as follows:

1.1. The contractor shall support the government's assessment of the system prime contractor Block 04 Test Bed Activation program monitoring all HSI activities. In addition, the contractor shall support the government with planning the Continued Development Option program. The contractor shall support the government with the development of acquisition Logistics requirement specifications to be utilized for contract award of either the Block 04 Test Bed or the Continued Development Option in all areas of Human Factors Engineering (HFE).

1.2 The contractor shall support the government in the development of documentation that facilitates execution of the GMD acquisition strategy and HSI development. However, the contractor may not assist in proposal evaluation as advisors on Source Selection Evaluation Boards (SSEBs) unless the approval and documentation required by FAR 37.203(d) and 37.204 is obtained. The contractor may be required to evaluate change order proposals, which does not fall within the parameters of FAR 37.203(d) and 37.204.

1.3 The contractor shall assist the government with the integration of all component logistics HSI domains and support all planning at the GMD PC system level. This support shall include participation in and/or facilitation of IPTs and Working Groups as directed by the technical monitor, review of component HSI and support plans, and coordination of all system level plans with element product offices. The contractor shall also assist the government with the execution of these plans to ensure the GMD Logistics Concepts and HSI Domains are preserved.

1.4 The contractor shall assist the government with planning, organizing, directing, and controlling of activities necessary to execute the GMD HSI program strategy. The contractor shall support the government in development and execution of the GMD Risk Management Plan to identify, assess, and control risk including identification and analysis of risk drivers, assessing the potential program cost, schedule, and performance impacts, and recommending program risk mitigation actions.
