Reply to Article "50 feet isn't what it used to be"

I like to smoke. I know many others that enjoy cigars, cigarettes or pipes. I know others that like to drink, eat red meat, fried foods and even candy bars. I also know many people that like to complain about every indulgence or vice that they do not personally engage in. It seems that we are more and more becoming a nation of self-appointed social control advocates advocating the ban of habits they do not themselves practice. People naturally resist restrictions that are excessive or unreasonable. Smoking was banned from the Pacific Club despite the fact that almost all the customers smoked and it is an open-air bar. The Yuk Club is often nearly empty because two thirds of its customers are outside smoking. We learned nothing from prohibition as our nation engages in its most current social mania over habits in disfavor with the majority. Bottom line is this; tobacco is a legal product that people have a right to use. To accommodate non-smokers; most smokers actually favor reasonable restrictions. Unfortunately the accommodation has become one sided. When you live in a social situation accommodation has to be two sided. Ms. Drumheller should be able to get candy without passing through a "gauntlet of smoke" (how one person smoking outside does that I am not sure.) Those that want to have a cigarette with their coffee at the bakery have a right also. Fifty feet from the entrance of the bakery is where? Across the street in the grassy area near Finance? What would be reasonable? Perhaps half the tables non-smoking, the down wind half smoking. If you live in a social situation that has to accommodate different groups, yes, you may occasionally hear, smell or see things you would rather avoid. Other option is being a hermit.

Continental responds to recommendations

An update for the community on the work U.S. Army Kwajalein Atoll has done with Continental Airlines:

COL BEVERLY STIPE

As most of you are aware, Continental rates changed over the summer, and the result was a little confusion tagged to a hefty ticket price. We at USAKA have been working very hard recently to expand our partnership with Continental Micronesia. We conducted meetings in Guam last week, and I am pleased to announce that Continental responded very positively to our recommendations, and has implemented new travel incentives that will benefit USAKA/Reagan Test Site, Kwajalein Range Services and the Kwajalein community at large.

Continental Micronesia will operate two additional flights per week between Kwajalein and Honolulu beginning Dec. 6. The proposed schedule for the first flight will add a Tuesday departure from Kwajalein at

Commentary

An ex-smoker weighs in Knowing me now and how awesomely cool I am, it might be hard for some people to believe I was a little nerdy in my school-age years and like nerds everywhere, I really wanted to be part of the 'in' crowd at high school. Of course, all of the 'in' crowd smoked.

So when I was 13, I snuck a pack of my father's cigarettes out of the house, went into an alley a couple of blocks away and lit one up. I took my very first drag off a cigarette and spent the next 20 minutes or so coughing up my lungs and puking. That should have been enough for anyone with half a brain to know that smoking probably wasn't a good thing to do.

But I was a teenager and stupid. And so began a 30 year smoking habit.

My mornings would begin when the alarm went off and I would sit on the side of the bed hacking and trying to get my breath. After I was able to start breathing, the next thing I'd do is reach for a cigarette and light up. And, yes, I would spend another 15 minutes coughing and hacking up stuff you don't even want to think about.

Over the wonderful years I spent smoking, I can't count the number of movies I would go to and never see the middle or sometimes the ending of because I'd be in the lobby smoking. That is, if you could smoke in the lobby. If you couldn't I'd be outside in negative 5 degree weather in winter just so I could have that smoke.

I can't count the number of times I

Golfers dodge wet weather to compete in 35th KGA Kwaj Open golf tournament

By Mig Owens
Assistant editor

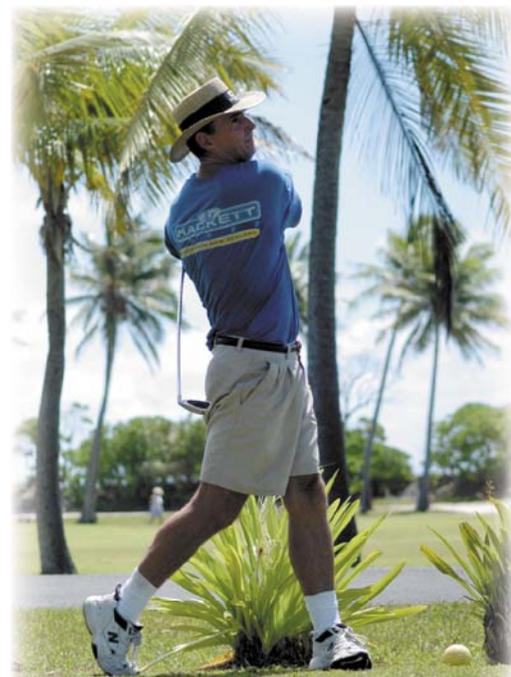

Rain, shine and everything in between were experienced Oct. 2 through Monday by 102 golfers from Kwajalein and Roi-Namur at Holmberg Fairways during the 35th Anniversary Kwajalein Open Golf Tournament.

According to Mark Koepeke, Professional Golfers Association professional from Kona, Hawaii, "This is a group of people you can tell are really passionate about the game."

Koepeke was invited to Kwajalein by the Kwajalein Golf Association for the annual tournament to help run the tournament by acting as an independent third party, uphold the rules of golf and provide lessons.

"This tournament – as fun as it is – is a very respected tournament," Koepeke said. "Everyone takes it seriously and puts pressure on themselves to perform. They enjoy it to the fullest."

How players enjoyed the game was open to interpretation. Mark Thimsen, for instance, took the opportunity to 'troll' between holes as he threw out a fishing line, which was attached to his golf bag. "I'm not a golfer, I'm a fisherman," he laughed.

The Bar Open' group also worked hard to ensure golfers enjoyed the tournament. The group, which plays golf regularly on Wednesdays and Fridays when the Country Club Bar is open, sponsored free hot dogs and barbecue sandwiches on Hole 6. This mid-course 'food stop' was a tournament first.

"The Bar Open is paying out of their 'war chest' and without too much money and not much effort, it's been a big success," Geary Shotts, organizer, said. "Next year it's steak and lobster!" he joked.

According to Curt Bean, KGA vice-president and tournament chair, "This year's tournament stressed having fun, meeting new people and volunteerism. The mood was relatively light and as always very competitive," Bean said. "Even during the rain people kept up wonderful attitudes."

Several options offered on island for breakfast, lunch, dinner, snacks

By Elizabeth Davie
Reporter

Anyone who laments that there are no familiar franchise food chains on island may have more dining options than they think.

Café Pacific, Three Palms, Sunrise Bakery, Oceanview Club and the mobile kitchen all offer a variety of dining services. According to Steve Cummings, Dining Services manager, there is “something for everyone.”

Café Pacific

Cummings described Café Pacific as primarily for unaccompanied U.S.

Army Kwajalein Atoll/Reagan Test Site/Kwajalein Range Services employees. However, he said that families are now welcome to dine there nightly for dinner and for breakfast and brunch on weekends. Workers that are non-meal card holders can dine there during their normal work hours but must pay the meal rate. Café Pacific serves three meals a day 365 days a year.

Three Palms

Three Palms is a snack bar and offers a wide variety of options such as made-to-order subs, appetizers, hamburgers and pizza as well as lunch and dinner specials. The lunch and dinner specials are offered from Tuesday through Saturday. There is also a Saturday night dinner special, usually prime rib. Service begins at 6 p.m. Limited flavors of Baskin Robbins ice cream is also served at the snack bar. The snack bar's hours are from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, Monday and holidays. A delivery service is yet another option at the snack bar. According to Cummings, pizza and other food items from the menu can be delivered to just about any location on island. Delivery hours are from 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday through Friday and from 5 to 11 p.m. Saturday. Cummings described Saturday at the snack bar as a "late night" option. For more information or to order from Three Palms, call 53409.

Sunrise Bakery

Cummings said that the bakery has a limited selection of "on-the-fly" food such as pre-wrapped sandwiches, salads, drinks and fruit. The bakery also offers special-order cakes and a coffee break service. Coffee and pastries for 20 people or more can be ordered and sent to a location of choice with 24 hours notice. Cummings suggested the bakery as an option for an early breakfast on the weekends. The bakery is open from 5 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, from 6 a.m. to noon Sunday and from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday. For more information on the bakery, call 53445.

Oceanview Club

According to Cummings, as of last week the Oceanview offers appetizers such as mozzarella sticks, jalapeno poppers and clam strips. The appetizers are served from 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday through Friday and from 5 to 11 p.m. Saturday. There is a $1 delivery fee except during happy hour, which is from 5 to 6 p.m. Orders can be placed with a server or by calling the pizza order line at 53409.

Mobile kitchen

The mobile kitchen is used to offer the community several different dining options. "It is a wonderful piece of equipment and we are happy to have it," Cummings said. The mobile kitchen is used to create a "virtual restaurant" several times a month. These events include the Moonrise Grill, which is staged ocean side such as at the Pacific Club or the Sunset Bistro, which is Emon Beach or Coral Sands. Many of the events have a theme such as "Blues Night," "Bali Night," or Little Italy." Cummings also said that about once every six weeks there is a prime rib night. The cost of these events is $25 for non-meal card holders and $20 for meal card holders. The cost includes the meal, house wine service and a small service charge that may be given to the hourly service employees who work the event. "Dining Services provides a full bar service at their 'beach bash' events that take place at Coral Sands, the adult beach and pavilion," Cummings said.

Tickets for the events can be purchased at Three Palms or the Dining Services administration office at the Oceanview. Cummings said that no reservations will be taken, tickets must be purchased. There is a limited amount of seating depending on the location of the event. "So far all of the events have been sold out," he said. "It is a great deal and everyone has a good time. We try to make it as festive as possible."

Other themed nights are in the works such as a seafood night at the Small Boat Marina. "One of the things we want to move forward with is having guest chefs," he said. Incorporating guest chefs could bring a different selection of food such as Southwestern and Bayou themed nights. "People who are interested we want to encourage their participation," he said. Anyone interested in being a guest chef can contact Cummings at 53932.

The mobile kitchen also supports community events such as the holiday celebrations and company events.

Catering

According to Cummings, Dining Services offers catering for any occasion from football parties to formal events of all sizes.

One of the catering options is Dinner for Two. This is done at the Kayak Shack at Emon Beach and is available Tuesday through Friday. The cost for this private dining experience is $175 and includes an appetizer, salad, wine, entrée, desert and music. Cummings said the menu is fully customizable to the customers' needs. "To change the date to a Saturday, Sunday or Monday the customer would incur a substantial cost increase," he added. Dinner for two can accommodate up to 24 people.

Catering is available for all occasions. For more information on Dinner for Two or other catering options, call 53402 or 53419.

Cummings also added that the snack bar at Dock Security is open from 5:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and from 5:30 to 7 a.m. Monday.

With all these options it could make the question "What's for dinner tonight?" a littler easier to answer.

U.S. forces are assisting with rescue, recovery and relief operations in Pakistan following an earthquake that killed between 20,000 and 30,000.

Five CH-47 Chinook and three UH-60 Black Hawk helicopters with U.S. Soldiers and supplies from Afghanistan arrived in Islamabad, Pakistan, Monday to assist with recovery operations in the wake of the Oct. 8 devastating earthquake.

The helicopter crews were from the 3rd Battalion, 158th Aviation Regiment and 2nd Battalion, 6th Cavalry Regiment at Bagram Airfield and Kandahar Airfield, Afghanistan.

Additionally, a C-17 and its crew from the 7th Airlift Squadron, McChord Air Force Base, Wash., delivered 12 pallets -- weighing almost 90,000 pounds -- of food, water, medicine and blankets from Bagram. So far, 18 pallets of relief supplies have been transported by air to Pakistan along with essential personnel needed to assist with recovery operations.

The helicopters took off from Bagram Airfield again this morning to ferry supplies to earthquake-stricken areas and evacuate those injured. Additionally, C-130 Hercules and C-17 Globemaster aircraft from Afghanistan will transport 30 pallets of relief supplies to a Pakistan Army Airfield near Islamabad, officials said.

"Our total focus is on relieving the suffering in Pakistan, help them stabilize and, in the longer term, recover," said Lt. Gen. Karl Eikenberry, Combined Forces Command-Afghanistan commanding general.

Columbus Day Run draws 46 participants

Hourglass reports

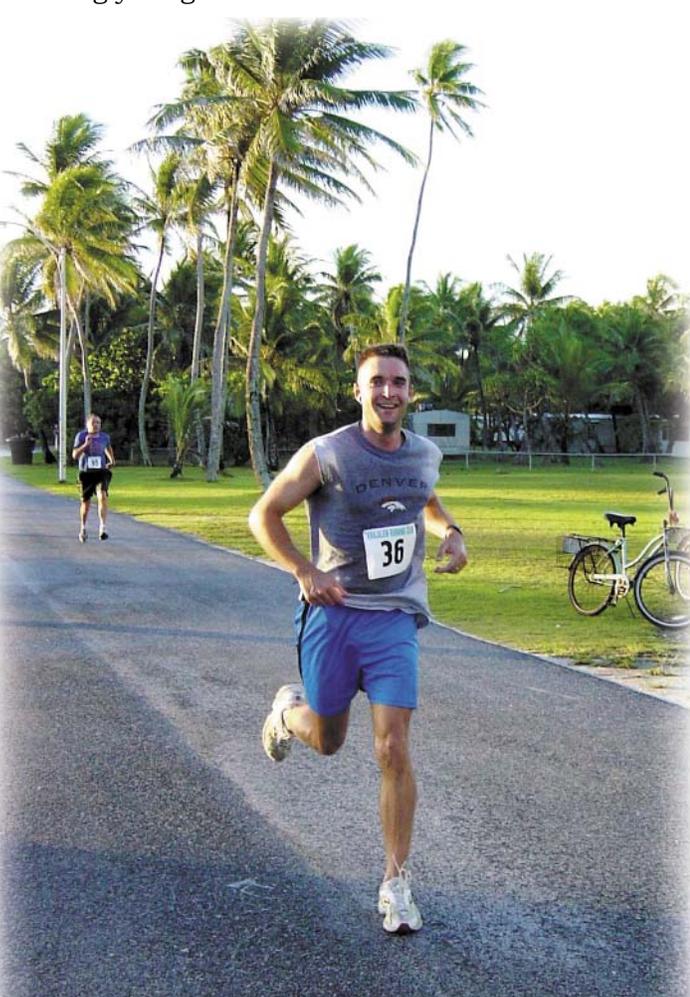

The Kwajalein Running Club's 28th annual Columbus Day Runabout was Monday. There were 46 participants.

According to Bob Sholar, club president, "One highlight this year was watching Kwajalein Jr-Sr High School boys, Andrew Habig and Michael Taylor finish first and second overall in the 6.52-mile distance. Most years the students get beaten by the Open Division adults."

He added that in the female section, KHS student Julianne Kirchner crossed first overall in the 6.52-mile distance, besting the leading Open Division females.

Kwaj newcomers John Frazer and John Vannoy won the men's 13.04-mile sections for Masters and Open, respectively. "It is good to have new participants," Sholar said.

"Despite being only 7, little Audrey Corbett took the Female Youth section at 6.52 miles. This is Audrey's third consecutive Columbus Day run. How's that for starting young!" he said.

Brian Brewster, followed by Ed Hillman heads to the finish line at the Columbus Day Run, Monday.

The Perfect Man, A girl plays Cupid for her mom, but has to invent the right man to woo her in this romantic comedy. Jean Hamilton (Heather Locklear) is a single mother with two daughters, teenaged Holly (Hilary Duff) and grade-school-aged Zoe (Aria Wallace). Fortysomething Jean has stumbled in and out of a number of bad relationships in her lifetime, and is desperate to find a good man; however, Holly has grown a bit tired of Jean's favored means of therapy after a bad breakup — packing up the family and moving to a new city. Once Jean and her girls settle in Brooklyn, Holly thinks they should stay for a while, and when Jean's romantic prospects begin to look less than rosy, Holly and her new friend Amy (Vanessa Lengies) decide to invent a secret admirer for her. Needing advice on what the "perfect man" would say and do, Holly and Amy turn to Ben (Chris Noth), Amy's uncle who talks a very good game when it comes to romance. But convincing Jean that there's a real man behind the steady stream of letters and e-mails from her new admirer isn't as easy as Holly imagines, and it looks as if her imaginary suitor might get in the way of a flesh-and-blood Mr. Right.

Dark Water. Directed by Walter Salles Jr., this remake of Hideo Nakata's supernatural psychological drama Honogurai Mizuno Soko Kara revolves around the plight of a single mother (Jennifer Connelly) whose messy divorce and subsequent battle for the custody of her five-year-old daughter is taking a heavy toll on her emotional well-being. Ultimately, the mother and daughter are able to relocate to an apartment, which, despite its excessively dilapidated interior, seems to be an adequate location for beginning a new life. Before long, however, what appears to be the spirit of a young girl begins to haunt them. No stranger to mental illness, the wary young woman brushes the visions aside as part of the inherent stress of making the transition from housewife to working, single mom. As time goes by and the apparent haunting does not subside, the apartment's new residents are forced to examine the history of its former tenants. Dark Water also features performances from John C. Reilly, Tim Roth, and Dougray Scott.

1:10 p.m. and arriving at Honolulu at 8:15 p.m. Monday. This new eastbound service will allow business and vacation travelers to make easy connections to mainland flights without an expensive overnight stay in Honolulu.

The additional westbound leg will operate from Honolulu on Tuesday at 1:40 p.m., arriving at Kwajalein at 5 p.m. Wednesday, with continuation direct to Guam – without making the island-hopper stops at Kosrae, Pohnpei and Chuuk.

Continental is initiating new fares between Kwajalein and Honolulu for as low as $450 each way, not including fees and taxes. These fares will have some advance purchase and other restrictions. There will also be very favorable unrestricted fares between Kwaj and Honolulu.

In addition, Continental Micronesia has also announced new round trip fares between Kwajalein and three mainland destinations, Los Angeles, Houston and Newark, New Jersey for as low as $1,300 exclusive of fees and taxes.

The local Continental Travel Office will have full information about these new initiatives. The airline also hopes to develop new incentives for Kwajalein residents who may desire westbound vacation travel to the neighbor islands of Kosrae, Pohnpei and Chuuk, as well as to the Republic of the Philippines and Australia.

I am very pleased that Continental Micronesia has responded to our need to quantify and contain our transportation costs in an extremely positive manner. The expanded service is going to enhance the cost effectiveness of the command's travel requirements and give our employees expanded opportunities to travel in the Pacific region. This may be the best news story of the year. Special thanks to all who participated to make this a reality!

would be halfway to work in the mornings and then wonder if I'd put out that cigarette I was smoking at home. I'd wind up being late for work because I'd drive home in a panic wondering if all I would see when I pulled in the driveway was a smoldering ruin that used to be my house.

And yes, that $##%# cigarette was always out.

I don't know how many business meetings I would be in when all I was thinking was SHUT UP, SHUT UP, SHUT UP, don't you people know I need a freakin' smoke?

I hated it when all the anti-smoking hysteria started and smokers became second-class citizens not allowed in restaurants, bars, movies and on airplanes. We were bombarded with all the "you're going to die" ads. I was determined that I wasn't going to let anyone tell me what to do. I defiantly kept smoking. So believe me, I know how you smokers feel. But the bottom line about smoking is that it takes years off your life, it interferes with every aspect of daily living and it's very expensive.

I hope someday, you all remember when you used to smoke too.
