The 45th annual tree lighting event kicked off the 2012 Kwaj holiday season. I would like to express my deep gratitude to everyone who made it possible: the CA Crew, you stayed with me in the pouring rain preparing all day Saturday, then we did it all again on Monday; Dan Hopkins, our sound man and performer extraordinaire; Pure Polynesia, the go-to island band; Denise Dorn, artist in residence; Mark Houseman who suits up when needed; the Outrigger Canoe Club for entertaining Santa and helping him make a grand entrance; Anne Dowell and all the wheel walkers and elves; Vange Ebel and Joanie Drefus for helping with crafts; the PTO, Girl Talk Group, 4-H Club, Yacht Club and Bill Williamson for adding something extra to the evening; all of the amazing performers; Darryl Mathieson for giving us wheels; the metal shop for keeping the roof on things; JT Theel and the electric shop for ensuring the light magic happened; and anyone else who helped make the holidays a little brighter. It literally takes an island to make an event like this happen. This was my fifth tree lighting ceremony and it was by far the best, in spite of the weather. I think that the song Dan performed, "Christmas Wish," sums up the goal of this event well: "Christmas is a time to come together, a time to put all differences aside. And I reach out my hand to the family of man to share the joy I feel at Christmas time."

Our next big event is Dec. 15, the night of caroling and judging for the "Christmas Island Light Up the Night" competition. Don't forget to register your quarters with CA.

Randy Wilson is the new KRS Community Services Manager here at Kwajalein. He heard about Kwajalein from his Coast Guard friends. He is originally from Black Mountain, N.C., but most recently from the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. While here at Kwajalein, Wilson is looking forward to fishing, boating and learning to dive. He is also looking forward to working with folks to make life better out here now and in the future.

SPOTLIGHT

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES:
KIM YARNES

Behind the scenes at the most visible department on island

Article and photo by Sheila Gideon
Managing Editor

She probably has one of the most recognizable faces and certainly one of the most visible jobs on island. Kim Yarnes is the Community Activities manager and most of you know her for her role in planning and running island-wide events. However, there is a lot more to her job that most either don't know she manages, or is done behind the scenes. Yarnes is responsible for the theaters, library, Hobby Shop, golf course, special events, vendor licenses, Adopt-an-Area program, equipment reservations, Post Office and supervising Media Services and Roi CA. Yarnes' undergraduate and graduate studies were focused on communication, though she has also studied theater, art and psychology.

Yarnes does not work a typical 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. schedule like most on island. She frequently works weekends, evenings and holidays. She is also frequently out of her office doing inspections on CA facilities and prepping for events. While Yarnes works a varied schedule, business regarding CA should be reserved for work hours only. The CA office is open from 8 a.m. to noon, Tuesday through Saturday. Rebecca Autry is the new CA administrative assistant and can answer any of your questions and process any payments. When Yarnes is not available, you should direct any CA business to Autry. For after-hours communication, email is the best way to contact Yarnes.

Community Events

Community events are Yarnes' specialty. While events may be the most visible to the community, they are not the most frequently utilized part of CA. "The Hobby Shop is busy with people every single weekend or we always have kids that are coming to the library. Those are like little events or activities that are happening all the time," Yarnes said. The annual Tree Lighting ceremony and Fourth of July beach party are the largest CA events of the year. Throughout the year, CA hosts several smaller events like the Swap Meet, Double Features at the Rich Theater and holiday beach blasts. CA also partners with Retail Services and private organizations to host events like the annual Kwajalein Open golf tournament or a New Year's Eve party at the Ocean View.

Yarnes strives to make special events frequent, original and entertaining for all age groups and dynamics on island. What some may not realize is that Yarnes begins work on the community calendar in August for the following year. The 2013 community calendar is being approved and will be published to the community this month. When planning the calendar, Yarnes strives to balance events for youth and families with events for adults and unaccompanied personnel. "We like to keep people entertained," Yarnes said with a smile.

The CA crew is only made up of four full-time employees and is supplemented by three part timers. "The crew is sort of the heart of everything that we do in Community Activities," Yarnes said. "A lot of people don't realize it's the same people that are setting up the tents and delivering the equipment ... that are also cleaning the facilities, grooming the tennis courts and emptying the trashes at the beach. So, when we have a lot of special events going on, they have even more to do and less time to do it in." Accommodating 10 small reservations versus four large ones is actually more difficult and time consuming. The holiday season and graduation are the busiest times for reservations.

Equipment Reservations

You can rent tents (with or without rope lights), chairs, tables, table cloths, BBQ grills and the bounce castle from CA. Reservations are not confirmed until you pay at the CA office; payment must be made at least two business days in advance. Reservations for 2013 open this month. If you know you have a senior graduating, a club event, or a special birthday coming up, "Get it on the books," Yarnes recommended. It is easier to make last minute changes to a reservation (i.e. number of chairs, tables) than to make a last minute reservation. Equipment that is out on the island and is set up has already Kwajalein traditions are certainly unique. The 45th annual Tree Lighting is one of the most highly anticipated community events of the year and has its own quirks. Santa arrived this year in an Outrigger canoe. Instead of a sleigh, he rode into town on a trailer pulled by a tractor. We sang our holiday songs in several languages. And our biggest island tradition - we light a palm tree instead of a traditional pine Christmas tree.

The holiday celebration was postponed by torrential rain, and rescheduled for Monday. No worries - we're on island time! Crowds of children waited eagerly at the Small Boat Marina for Santa's arrival. This year, he was brought to shore courtesy of the Kwajalein Outrigger Club. Santa greeted Kwajalein children and then hopped on his "sleigh" for the parade to downtown. Children followed, picking up candy and toys thrown to them by volunteers.

The community gathered downtown and watched performances while everyone waited for it to get dark enough to light the tree. Karen Brady's Dance Troupe began the show with a holiday dance number. Jack Montgomery provided the singing to "White Christmas." The Kwajalein Jr./Sr. High School Band, directed by Dick Shields, played two upbeat holiday numbers.

High schoolers Mereille Bishop, Grace DeLange, Kori Dowell, Annie Hepler, Angelo and Auguston Lelet entertained with their singing of well-known holiday tunes. A surprise performance by Patrice and Ed Kramer had the audience giggling and cheering to the lyrics of "Kwaj Christmas." Some lyrics included, "We won't be cold out here on Kwaj, Santa comes in on a boat. It's way too hot for his reindeer, the dolphins lead him in." Dan Hopkins also sang a few funny tunes including the favorite, "Grandma Got Run Over by a Reindeer." Pure Polynesia ended the show with a holiday medley. They got the crowd riled up when Mike Sakaio sang part of "Feliz Navidad" in Marshallese and changed the words to "Ebeye" and "Polynesia."

Finally, Lt. Col. Dean Wiley took the stage to say a few words. He welcomed the community to the event on behalf of the USAKA command. He also took the time to thank Kim Yarnes, Community Activities manager, and her staff and volunteers for the hard work they put in setting up not only once, but twice because of the rain. He then decided that it was indeed dark enough to light the tree. He called Santa up on stage. After a drum roll courtesy of the high school band, Santa pushed Rudolph's nose and lit the tree.

Pure Polynesia took the stage again and continued to perform throughout the evening. Meanwhile, crafts, food and raffles were ongoing for all to enjoy.

Santa's visit at library starts holiday celebration on Kwaj

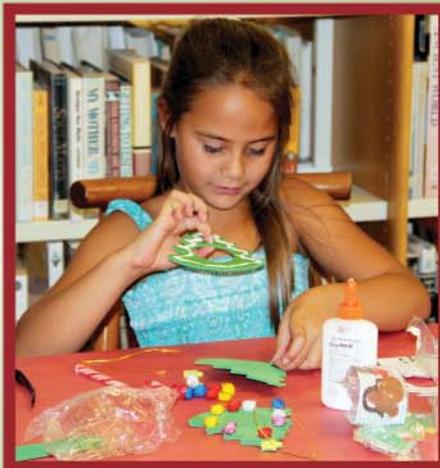

Article and photos by Sheila Gideon

Santa spread holiday cheer at the Grace Sherwood Library Sunday. Kwajalein children lined up to sit on Santa's lap and tell him what they wanted for Christmas. Some had a long list, but others were shy and opted to just write Santa a letter and put it in the mail. Some were eager to see and talk to Santa, others were shy and some had complete meltdowns. Luckily, parents were armed with cameras to catch all the memorable moments.

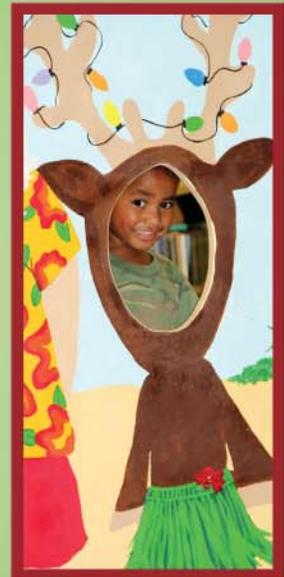

Community Activities had crafts and temporary tattoos available for the kids. There was also a new "photo opp" board designed by Denise Dorn where the kids could poke their heads through the holes and pretend to be Santa, a reindeer, coconut or Sandman.

been reserved and paid for. Borrowing of any equipment is considered theft of service, even if the event the equipment was used for is finished.

Theaters: Rich and Yuk

Movies shown at both theaters are provided by AAFES. They are only available in VHS format and therefore can only be shown on our "state-of-the-art" VCR. CA puts out the movie schedule monthly, but because they are sent through the mail, the schedule could change last minute due to a mail delay. For the most up-to-date schedule, see the CA intranet page, AFN Roller and weekly TV and Entertainment Guide. Also check the Coconut Wire, Hourglass and Roller for special Double Features and concession sales. If your club or group is looking to do a fundraiser, contact CA to sign up to offer concessions at the Rich Theater.

Grace Sherwood Library

The library is staffed partially by volunteers and the volunteer coordinator, Vange Ebel. Every Wednesday at 10 a.m. there is the elementary and Pre-K Story Hour. The library also offers special events throughout the year like "Drop Everything And Read" Day or Dr. Suess' birthday. There are four .com computers in the library. The library is public and open to everybody.

Hobby Shop

Denise Dorn is the person to seek out at the Hobby Shop to show you how to make clay creations. You can purchase a day pass, punch pass or a six-month family or individual membership. Dorn offers kids and adult classes to learn the basics. Dax Mitchell offers a periodic wheel throwing class. The Hobby Shop will hold the annual holiday open house from 5-8 p.m., Friday. Join in on food, music, prizes and fun. The woodshop is also open to island residents. You must take the woodshop orientation offered the first Tuesday of every month.

Holmberg Fairways

Tony Savage is the new golf course superintendent at Holmberg Fairways. He is offering a ladies golf clinic in January to learn the fundamentals and rules. For kids, putt-putt golf is offered throughout the year. The next date is Dec. 23. The golf course partners with the Kwajalein Golf Association to offer golf tournaments on a semi-monthly basis. The Backwards Golf Tournament will be held on Monday. The golf course crew has over 20 years experience at Holmberg Fairways.

Adopt-an-Area

There are 34 areas available for adoption around Kwajalein. You can adopt as an individual, group or club. You are responsible for picking up man-made trash, not for trimming trees or cutting the grass. While bi-weekly is encouraged, you can clean your area as often as you want. Right now, the list is very empty, so volunteers are needed! Sign-ups are for one year, beginning in January.

Vendors Licenses

Licenses are valid from January to December. Renewals for 2013 are due by Dec. 29. Turn in your application to the CA office with the service or goods you plan to provide, AAFES approval, $25 application fee, how you plan to have items shipped, and any certifications or insurance necessary. You can find the list of on-island vendors and their goods/services offered on the CA intranet site; it is updated monthly.

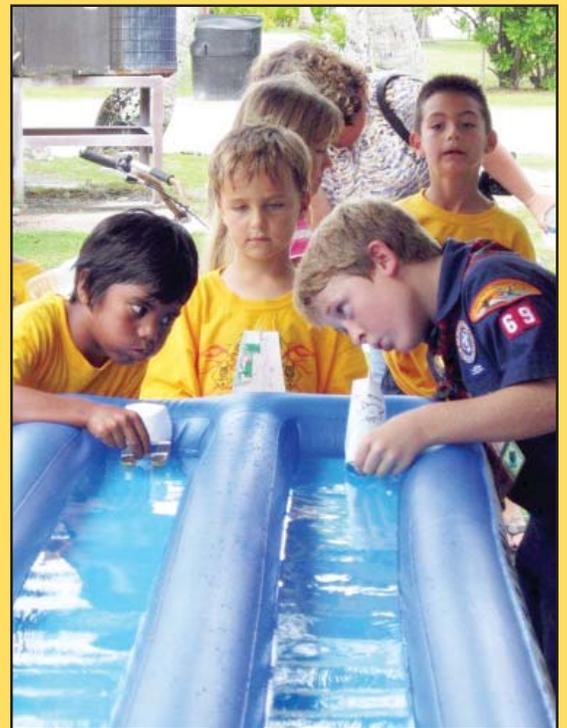

It is easy to enjoy the island community activities without thinking of all the effort put forth by the CA department to keep those facilities and events available to us. So, while you're enjoying the double feature tonight at the Rich Theater, or looking through your photos of this year's Tree Lighting, remember that it was all made possible by the hard work of the CA crew.

Annual RNCC Club Championship titles almost swept by one golfer

Article and photos by Bob Whitehead
RNCC Secretary/Treasurer

During the weekends of Nov. 18 and Nov. 25, 15 dedicated members of the Roi-Namur Country Club participated in the 2012 edition of the RNCC Annual Club Championship. Bob Emmert won the gross score championship and Sung Whitehead won the net score championship. As a point of interest, Emmert would have won both titles except for an aberrant tee shot on hole 17 during the second weekend of competition. Curse you golf gods! For the rest of us, there's always next year. The RNCC would like to thank Laura Pasquarella-Swain and her grounds crew for preparing the course, Quentin 'Rey' Baldado for barbecuing the post-tournament chicken, and Ricky Everette for running to the PX and picking up the hot dogs and other refreshments.
