BOMI opening is a winning situation for all

With the flourish of two pens, and the cutting of a ceremonial ribbon, the face of business on Kwajalein changed in a subtle, but very important way. The opening of the Kwajalein branch of the Bank of Marshall Islands marked the first time in the history of U.S. Army Kwajalein Atoll that a privately-owned Marshallese enterprise was permitted to operate on island. Hopefully, it is the start of things to come.

Fittingly, it was a true "win-win" scenario— USAKA/Reagan Test Site saves thousands of dollars while a Marshallese business is allowed to benefit directly from the range's presence.

From the Directorate of Host Nation Activities perspective, it was nirvana. USAKA/RTS Staff Directorates, KRS and BoMI worked together tirelessly to make a long-time goal a reality: a Marshallese business filling a niche capacity, improving the quality of life for our employees and community.

BoMI's presence on USAKA is manifest proof that our community indeed supports the RMI. It is a visual testament to our commitment to the long-term success of the RMI business class and Compact of Free Association goal of self-sufficiency for the RMI.

The bank had to have a business plan that fit the needs of USAKA/RTS. While we gave them free space in exchange for waiving their check cashing fees, they must bear the costs of operating a business just like any other entity on Kwajalein.

In the future we may see other Marshallese-operated businesses appear on Kwajalein. These businesses will have to operate under USAKA guidelines and within the constraints of the marketplace. But there are definite opportunities for Marshallese businesses on Kwajalein that will directly benefit the community. In the end, it will only mean a "win-win" for our community and the RMI.

Sun, fun, food, fireworks mark Independence Day celebration on Kwajalein

By Neil M. Drumheller
Editor

The celebration of Independence Day in U.S. communities around the world is a tradition that features picnic-style food, sports and games and culminates in fireworks.

On Kwajalein Monday, close to half of the full-time population came out to continue that tradition.

Reality is that summertime is when most of the Kwajalein community heads off the island for their annual leave. At this year's 4th of July ceremony there appeared to be at least 1,000 of those left on island during the 'vacation season.'

Iffy weather did not seem to dampen the spirit or enthusiasm of the people who gathered at Emon Beach. Vendors sold non-heat resistant cotton candy, hot dogs, hamburgers, ribs, shaved-ice drinks and fixings as well as T-shirts, baseball caps, towels and holiday-related keepsakes.

The U.S. Ambassador to the Republic of the Marshall Islands Greta Morris and Lt. Col. Anne Daugherty, Reagan Test Site commander gave the opening remarks and Amber Banducci sang the National Anthem to officially kick off the days events.

Music played throughout the day, the beach and water was dotted with sun worshippers, the grassy areas were home to a dunk tank and a variety of other activities. And after dark the sky was the show case for a more than 15 minute fire works display followed by comedy performances by Kelly Moran and Cash Levy, Armed Forces Entertainers. The comedians performed three times over the holiday weekend.

An all-day, in the sand, volleyball tournament brought seven teams head-to-head vying for the title of champion. A team called Liberty, co-captained by Amy Hansen and Debbie Thomas with players Brandon Price and Floyd Corder, Jr. came from the loser's bracket to double-eliminate leaders the Busquets with players Miquel Busquets, Ragnar Opiniano, Kelly Busquets, Rob Gray and Jennifer Borrow.

The four-person tournament started at 10 a.m. and continued until almost sunset. The final scores were 30-26 and 30-24.

Whether it was their first Independence Day on Kwajalein, or if they were old timers in the Marshall Islands, attendees seemed to enjoy the activities.

"It seems safer, a lot safer and fun than 4th of July in the states," said Alex Britain while slurping on his multi-colored snow cone. This is Britain's first Independence Day celebration on Kwajalein. "You know a lot more people here," he added.

Long-time resident Neal Dye, who wouldn't say exactly how many of the celebrations he's seen on Kwajalein, said that while there haven't always been fireworks on the 4th of July since he's been here, he likes the atmosphere that has been created. "It has almost a carnival flavor," he said. He added that the fireworks display is safer here because it is done by professionals.

Sue Van Enger's first Independence Day on Kwajalein was rain-soaked. "It was pouring down rain, they didn't know whether or not to have it," she said of 2002. She recalls 4th of July's in the states, "I've been very fortunate to have spent many 4th of July celebrations on a boat on Lake Tahoe [California]. There was always a big show," she said. Jason Heider has been on Kwajalein for only a few months. He said that he feels that the celebration is very laid-back, with an island feel.

Independence Day is the traditional day that Americans celebrate their freedom. Thomas Paine, a publisher who was born in England in 1737, but immigrated to America on the advice of Benjamin Franklin in 1774, was loudly outspoken on the importance of freedom. He wrote, "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: it is dearness only that gives every thing its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated."

While the celebration of Independence Day is based on the reality of freedom in America it has also come to symbolize a time when families and friends meet, enjoy good food and fun. Erma Bombeck, a humorist who was very popular in the sixties and seventies summed it up when she said, "You have to love a nation that celebrates its independence every July 4, not with a parade of guns, tanks, and soldiers who file by the White House in a show of strength and muscle, but with family picnics where kids throw Frisbees, the potato salad gets iffy, and the flies die from happiness. You may think you have overeaten, but it is patriotism."

Volleyball, fireworks and games on the beach were part of the Independence Day celebration.

"It's a beautiful day to celebrate being an American and I'm thankful to know we have people fighting for our freedom."

Kelly O'Connor, AFN

Chief Warrant Officer Steve Simpson, Aviation

"It's time to think about the troops in the Middle East and their families back home and all Soldiers in previous wars and their sacrifices they make so that the rest of us may grill our hot dogs, drink our beverages and watch the fireworks on the 4th of July without worries."
