Visitors check out the art at the George Seitz Elementary School Art show March 19.

HOURLASS REPORT

Kwajalein families and students visited George Seitz Elementary School March 19 for the elementary student art show.

The afternoon show brought smiles to the faces of family and friends. Students enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade explored the theme of identity in mixed media, clay and paint all year long in preparation for the showcase open house.

Attendees were encouraged to dress in costume to display their inner selves, in keeping with the show's theme. Several students visited wearing original creature and superhero costumes.

Jane "Art Mama" Christy, Kwajalein schools art instructor, greeted guests at the door wearing her trademark Thor costume as a reminder to students that creating art is a brave act.

HOURLASS REPORT

Students at George Seitz Elementary School enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade performed comedy, song and dance for a packed house of parents and friends at the annual George Seitz Elementary School Talent Show held at the Kwajalein Jr.-Sr. High School Multi-purpose Room March 22.

The production is an annual fundraiser sponsored by the Kwajalein Schools Parent Teacher Organization. Donated admission proceeds and funds raised during an intermission bake sale support activities and school-related functions throughout the year. The evening is also a chance for Kwaj kids to let their talents shine.

While most of the audience remained seated, a small band of young attendees joined a growing crowd on the dance floor in front of the stage to cheer on their friends during each performance. Rowen Primeaux performed "Fight Song" by Rachel Platten, and Mary Ruth Battise sang "Prayer," popularized by Celine Dione and Andre Bocelli.

While some students chose to perform solo vocals and instrumental numbers, others teamed up with friends to perform choreographed dance routines and comedic one-act skits. Jennifer Harmon led three groups of young women in modern dance numbers set to electronic dance and trap music. One highlight of the evening was a water ballet skit—complete with attacks by students costumed as jellyfish and sharks—performed by students in Misti French's fifth grade class.

RUSTMAN

The Kwajalein Running Club welcomes prospective participants to the 40th Annual Rustman Triathlon, almost four decades after the first event in 1980.

Rustman is not for the faint of heart. This annual triathlon event is a 1-kilometer swim followed by a 42-kilometer bike and finally a 10-kilometer run. The same swim-bike-run course has been used for the entire history of Rustman-with a few bike course alterations in the 1980s due to road work in progress.

What we're saying is, we hope you are ready to rust because the big weekend is nearly here! Pre-registered participants must check-in at the Emon Beach main pavilion no later than 3:15 p.m., Monday, April 22. The race gun will fire at 4 p.m. Get ready to get rusty! Come on out to support the Rustman. Submit your Rustman registration form to Bob and Jane Sholar by 8 p.m. Thursday, April 18 if you intend to participate.

Questions may be addressed to Bob and Jane Sholar at Qtrs. 473-A, Phone H:51815.

SHOPPERS SURVEY FOR SURFWAY

HOURLASS REPORT

Grocery shoppers on U.S. Army Garrison-Kwajalein Atoll met a three-man survey team at the door of Surfway March 29. Their mission: Collect lists of the 15 dry and cold food items that shoppers most want to see on the shelves.

"We had a number of people who were positive," said USAG-KA Director of Logistics Maj. Russell Zayas in an interview last week. "The community was very satisfied with the fresh produce that we have. They are satisfied with it and hope it is sustained."

Zayas, USAG-KA Food Officer Chief Warrant Officer 2 Jarell Smith, and Surfway Manager Phillip Kenley accepted the surveys and spoke to customers in a plan to meet their needs.

For food to get to Kwajalein, orders for cold and dry items must be placed at stateside suppliers. Food is then loaded into cargo containers and shipped. With no technical difficulties, transit issues or inclement weather impacting scheduled delivery times, the food ordering process takes place approximately 30-45 days ahead of shipping time. However, Smith and Zayas say Kwajalein's highest demand for food items is still smaller than the demand for comparable items on a larger garrison. As the food ordering process is revised into an iterative solution, the stocking and shipping scene will improve, and Kwaj residents will find what they need to make dinner.

This is where Kwajalein's shopper surveys come in. Smith, Zayas and Kenley, the Surfway trio, decided the best way to begin stocking the shelves was to speak to island residents about their needs.

"We wanted the community to understand that we hear them and appreciate them," said Smith. "Going out to meet them in person was the best way for us to understand how to improve our system and let them know they are valued."

"It was definitely nice getting to meet the community and to see what their thoughts were," said Kenley.

Survey results indicated the Kwaj community values similar items. Sour cream, butter, bread, olive oil and the spicy tomato and green chili Rotel appeared on many survey lists.

According to Smith, hearing from customers will let Surfway better prepare its ordering for the current island population, and allow the ordering and shipping processes to work those items into a regular requisition. Together, the Surfway team and the community will improve the quality of life on Kwajalein through everyday consistency in the store through direct communication about what everyone wants to have on the shelves.

"We feel that it is important for shoppers to visit Surfway knowing that we are working to consistently have what they need there," said Smith.

The Surfway improvement initiative includes a second survey planned for May 2019. In the meantime, Kwaj residents are encouraged to submit their suggestions for regular ordering to the Surfway suggestion box, located near the first register in Surfway.

"We had more than 72 people show up on one afternoon," said Smith. "They were positive, friendly, and we appreciate their consideration and willingness to work together with us."

Kenley added: "Thanks for coming out and putting in your thoughts and letting us know what you consider [your] main items to be."

HENRY AVOCADO RECALL

PUBLIC NOTICE

If you purchased Henry avocados in the last two weeks, do not eat them.

Henry Avocado Corporation is voluntarily recalling California-grown whole avocados because they have the potential to be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes.

The recall affects avocados sold in bulk at retail stores, packed at Henry Avocado's packing facility in California and distributed in Arizona, California, Florida, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Wisconsin.

All shipments from the packing facility are subject to the recall (Henry Avocado did not begin packing there until late January 2019). Avocados imported from Mexico and distributed by Henry Avocado are not subject to the recall and may continue to be sold and consumed.

Henry Avocado is issuing this voluntary recall out of an abundance of caution due to positive test results on environmental samples taken during a routine government inspection at its California packing facility.

There are no reported illnesses associated with this recall. Listeria monocytogenes is an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Although healthy individuals may suffer only short-term symptoms such as high fever, severe headache, stiffness, nausea, abdominal pain and diarrhea, Listeria infection can cause miscarriages and stillbirths among pregnant women.

USAG-KA CELEBRATES MONTH OF THE MILITARY CHILD

EXTERNAL REPORT

April is designated as the Month of the Military Child, underscoring the important role military children play in the armed forces community. Sponsored by the Department of Defense Military Community and Family Policy, the Month of the Military Child is a time to applaud military families and their children for the daily sacrifices they make and the challenges they overcome.

The Month of the Military Child is part of the legacy left by former Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger. He established the Defense Department commemoration in 1986.

DoDEA joins the Department of Defense and the military community in celebrating April as the Month of the Military Child. In DoDEA communities around the world, our most essential strategic imperatives are: establishing an educational system that progressively builds the college and career readiness of all DoDEA students, and establishing the organizational capacity to operate more effectively and efficiently as a model, unified school system. We aim to challenge each student to maximize his or her potential and to excel academically, socially, emotionally and physically for life, college and career readiness.

Throughout the month, DoDEA will encourage schools to plan special events to honor military children and have administrators and principals incorporate the themes of this month into their every day duties and responsibilities. These efforts and special events will stress the importance of providing children with quality services and support to help them succeed in the mobile military lifestyle.

NEW KWAJALEIN APO HOURS BEGIN APRIL 8

Due to the overwhelming response from the residents of Kwajalein following a recent survey, the new Kwajalein Post Office hours will be effective April 8, 2019:

Monday: 12:30 to 5 p.m.

Tuesday and Thursday: Noon to 6 p.m.

USAG-KA APO TIPS

HOURLASS REPORT

Here are some helpful tips from the Kwajalein Army Post Office. Whether you are departing or arriving on the garrison, these tips are for you.

PLEASE DO

- Present your ID badge when receiving postal services, including package pickup.
- Check and pick up mail at least biweekly. (If you get a larger amount of mail, check weekly).
- Check packages before you leave the pick-up window to ensure they are yours.
- Complete your customs forms before coming to the window.
- Put a completed mailing label inside your package.
- Include a copy of your travel orders inside the package. Give a second copy to the postal clerk.
- Use correct mailing addresses (PSC 701 is for personal mail and Unit 17001 for company mail).
- Please bring tracking numbers for missing packages to the finance window, as we can usually provide more tracking information.

- If your package arrived damaged and is missing something, please visit the post office and ask. We occasionally find loose items.
- If mailing sea glass, be sure to clean it thoroughly before shipping. We have had sea glass returned.

PLEASE DO NOT

- Do not leave empty boxes outside the post office.
- Do not slam the P.O. Box doors shut. They are fragile.
- Do not PCS without providing a change of address form. (Remember to also change your address on USPS.com).
- Refrain from using Gorilla cases for shipping. They become fragile in cold weather and may shatter in shipment. If you do use a Gorilla case, include an additional completed mailing label inside the case.
- Do not attempt to mail shells or items from the beach without checking to see if you are allowed to mail them. Your package will get returned.
- Do not mail items from the local shops without including a good description on the customs form and a sales receipt inside.
- Do not expect insurance to make up for poor packaging. Claims have been denied when items are not properly prepared.

HOMELAND MISSILE DEFENSE SYSTEM SUCCESSFULLY INTERCEPTS ICBM TARGET

EXTERNAL REPORT

The U.S. Missile Defense Agency, in cooperation with the Joint Functional Component Command for Integrated Missile Defense, U.S. Northern Command, and elements of the U.S. Air Force Space Command's 30th, 50th, and 460th Space Wings, conducted a successful test today against an Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) class target. This test was the first salvo engagement of a threat-representative ICBM target by two Ground Based Interceptors (GBI), which were designated GBI-Lead, and GBI-Tail for the test. The GBI-Lead destroyed the reentry vehicle, as it was designed to do. The GBI-Tail then looked at the resulting debris and remaining objects, and, not finding any other reentry vehicles, selected the next 'most lethal object' it could identify, and struck that, precisely as it was designed to do.

The threat-representative ICBM target was launched from the Reagan Test Site on Kwajalein Atoll in the Republic of the Marshall Islands, over 4,000 miles away from the two GBI interceptors, which were launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, California.

During the test, space, ground and sea-based BMDS sensors provided real-time target acquisition and tracking data to the Command, Control, Battle Management and Communication (C2BMC) system. The two GBIs were then launched and the Exo-atmospheric Kill Vehicles successfully engaged the target complex, resulting in an intercept of the target.

Initial indications show the test met requirements. Program officials will continue to evaluate system performance based upon telemetry and other data obtained during the test.

"This was the first GBI salvo intercept of a complex, threat-representative ICBM target, and it was a critical milestone," said MDA Director Air Force Lt. Gen.

Samuel A. Greaves. "The system worked exactly as it was designed to do, and the results of this test provide evidence of the practicable use of the salvo doctrine within missile defense. The Ground-based Midcourse Defense system is vitally important to the defense of our homeland, and this test demonstrates that we have a capable, credible deterrent against a very real threat."

The GMD element of the ballistic missile defense system provides combatant commanders the capability to engage and destroy intermediate and long-range ballistic missile threats to protect the U.S. The mission of the Missile Defense Agency is to develop and deploy a layered ballistic missile defense system to defend the United States, its deployed forces, allies and friends from limited ballistic missile attacks of all ranges in all phases of flight.

Additional information about all elements of the ballistic missile defense system can be found at www.mda.mil.
