USAG-KA, SPECIAL GUESTS HONOR U.S. ARMED FORCES

BY JESSICA DAMBRUCH

U.S. Army Garrison-Kwajalein Atoll honored veterans of the U.S. armed forces in a community ceremony Nov. 11, at the Island Memorial Chapel.

Special guests in attendance included Gold Star Family Member Mike Sam; keynote speaker and U.S. Ambassador to the Republic of the Marshall Islands Roxanne Cabral; U.S. Embassy Majuro Deputy Chief of Mission Jeremiah Knight; RMI Liaison to USAG-KA Lanny Kabua, distinguished visitors and members of U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 5, Detail Marshall Islands.

In her address to the garrison community, Cabral recounted the history of Veterans Day and its significance as an occasion to honor the ultimate sacrifice of members of the armed services.

Veterans and active-duty personnel were invited to stand as the Kwajalein Jr./Sr. High School Band played the service song for each branch of service.

FUN FOR KIDS, PARENTS AT WORLDWIDE DAY OF PLAY

BY JESSICA DAMBRUCH

Kwaj kids and parents enjoyed an afternoon of fun in the sun at the annual USAG-KA Child and Youth Services Worldwide Day of Play, Nov. 15 at the Namo Weto Youth Center and DeMeo Field.

The event is produced by members of the Torch and Keystone Clubs—youth honor societies of the Boys and Girls Club of America. This year's event included game stations, a dunk tank, and the opportunity for kids to touch a truck, hop in a squad car and check out first responder and logistics vehicles. Members of the Kwajalein Fire Department met with kids and passed out KFD swag while they stood for photos with special guest Sparky the Fire Pup.

Kids and parents enjoyed the chance to see the inside of the garrison's working vehicles. They tried out helicopter pilot helmets and worked the controls to power the squad car sirens and loudspeaker.

One child got on the intercom of the squad car to give her mother a special message: "Mom, you are under arrest!"

"I loved the tug-of-war," said one island resident, heading back for a second try at the game along with several peers.

VETS AND FRIENDS REEL IN BIG TOURNAMENT VICTORY

BY JESSICA DAMBRUCH

Congratulations to all the veterans and teams who participated in the MWR All-Atoll Veterans Day Fishing Tournament.

After a two-day run to Roi and back in foul weather, weary yet victorious teams rejoined families and friends at the Small Boat Marina to weigh their catch and enjoy a potluck dinner coordinated by island resident Angie Prater.

"We want to thank everyone who came out to support this event, and especially to thank all of our veterans," said Kwajalein Atoll Sport Fishing Club President William Boutu, a U.S. Army veteran-

To show their appreciation, the club raffled off goods and gift items from local vendors, including T-shirts, gift cards and fishing equipment.

Col. Thomas Pugsley, US-AG-KA commander, drew names from the raffle with a little help from his children, Max and Elena, and congratulated each team.

1) Bragging rights and top honors for the Biggest Mahi-mahi go to team "FAFO": Dominic Aragon, Jan Aragon, Devlin Joubert, Teresa Mitchell, Michael Mitchell. 2) Team "Booming Okey" took home the award for Biggest Tuna and is sure to eat well for the next few days. One of the best things about island life is the chance to share it with your closest friends. Kwajalein resident Mike Sakaio celebrated a recent birthday at the Kwajalein Yacht Club. The evening featured dancing, and live music provided by Pure Aloha and guest musicians from Majuro.

RUSSIAN MISSILE TEST CREATES SIGNIFICANT SPACE DEBRIS

By U.S. Space Command
Public Affairs Office

PETERSON SPACE FORCE BASE, Colo.— Russia tested a direct-ascent anti-satellite (DA-ASAT) missile on Nov. 15, 2021, Moscow Standard Time, that struck a Russian satellite [COSMOS 1408] and created a debris field in low-Earth orbit. The test so far has generated more than 1,500 pieces of trackable orbital debris and will likely generate hundreds of thousands of pieces of smaller orbital debris.

"Russia has demonstrated a deliberate disregard for the security, safety, stability, and long-term sustainability of the space domain for all nations," said U.S. Army Gen. James Dickinson, U.S. Space Command commander. "The debris created by Russia's DA-ASAT will continue to pose a threat to activities in outer space for years to come, putting satellites and space missions at risk, as well as forcing more collision avoidance maneuvers. Space activities underpin our way of life and this kind of behavior is simply irresponsible."

USSPACECOM's initial assessment is that the debris will remain in orbit for years and potentially for decades, posing a significant risk to the crew on the International Space Station and other human space-flight activities, as well as multiple countries' satellites.

USSPACECOM continues to monitor the trajectory of the debris and will work to ensure all space-faring nations have the information necessary to safeguard their on-orbit activities if impacted by the debris cloud, a service the United States provides to the world, to include Russia and China.

"Russia is developing and deploying capabilities to actively deny access to and use of space by the United States and its allies and partners," Dickinson added. "Russia's tests of direct-ascent anti-satellite weapons clearly demonstrate that Russia continues to pursue counterspace weapon systems that undermine strategic stability and pose a threat to all nations."

Media queries should be sent to U.S. Space Command Public Affairs Office at 719-554-3478 or USSPACECOM.PA.MEDIA@us.af.mil.

THE THREE R'S OF UXO

PUBLIC SAFETY ANNOUNCEMENT

Unexploded ordnance should be treated like dangerous sea creatures: Look, but do not touch. You can play an important role in keeping Kwajalein safe by knowing what to do when you spot unexploded ordnance.

Remember the three R's of UXO:

- Recognize an item as possible unexploded ordnance;
- Retreat from the area of the UXO; and
- Report suspected UXO immediately.

If you discover an object that could be UXO, notify Kwajalein Explosive Ordnance Disposal immediately by calling 5-1433. You can also call CPS at 5-4445. Provide the following information about what you found:

- Location. Note helpful details like the building number, GPS coordinates and any prominent landmarks
- Size of the UXO as compared to common items like a football or scuba air cylinder

For a detailed refresher on UXO safety, attend the new island orientation or call Kwajalein EOD at 5-1433.

Can you spot the similarities? Time and environmental change may disguise unexploded ordnance, but it is no less deadly. Left: A hand grenade recovered on U.S. Army Garrison-Kwajalein Atoll in the past. Right: Time makes a big difference. Years ago, the grenade probably resembled this inerted example.

WEATHER

RTS WEATHER STATION STAFF

WEATHER DISCUSSION: The subtropical high to the north remains the dominant weather feature Friday across Kwajalein Atoll.

The subtropical high will weaken tomorrow allowing for the Intertropical Convergence Zone to be back in our area. This will lead to widespread rain and potential thunderstorm development into early next week. Gale force wind gusts are possible in the vicinity of heavier showers.

The subtropical high further west will strengthen some as it pushes westward and that will lead the ITCZ to push further south by the middle of next week. A return to trade wind showers will continue through the end of next week under the influence of the subtropical ridge.

Winds will drop from the upper teens today to the low-mid teens Saturday and Sunday with upper teens later in the week.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY:

Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms possible. Winds ENE-E at 11-16 knots with occasional higher gusts.

MONDAY: Partly sunny with isolated showers. Winds E-ESE at 8-13 knots with higher gusts near showers.

TUESDAY: Mostly to partly sunny with isolated showers and winds ENE-E at 12-17 knots with higher gusts near showers. Some showers may contain blustery conditions.

NEXT WEEK: ITCZ activity will remain south of Kwajalein Atoll while trade wind showers is expected to impact the Kwajalein Atoll. East-Northeasterly-Easterly trade winds will remain elevated for the remainder of the workweek especially from mid-week into the end of the upcoming week.

Every week, Kwajalein Hourglass issue photos are uploaded to an online gallery for you to share with friends and family. Photos are free for download. Visit <https://www.flickr.com/photos/kwajaleinhourglass/albums>.

READ ALL ABOUT IT. THE KWAJALEIN HOURGLASS

HOW OUR NEWSPAPER GOT ITS NAME

The shoulder sleeve insignia of the 7th Infantry Division consists of two black, equilateral triangles placed vertically on a red circular disc giving it an hourglass shape. The hourglass of the insignia was consequently used in the title of the island newspaper, The Kwajalein Hourglass.
