AN ATTITUDE OF EXCELLENCE

HOURLASS REPORT

On Monday, March 17, 2025, our Roanna Zackhra, LOGCAP V/V2X Material Control Specialist IV was chosen as one of seven newly-appointed members of the College of the Marshall Islands' board of regents. Adding this title to her Board of Directors for the Marshall Islands Shipping Corporation position, Ms. Zackhra continues her impressive track as a woman of excellence.

According to the College of the Marshall Islands' website announcements, Ms. Zackhra and her fellow regents were chosen due to several years of auditing challenges that they proved capable of getting under control.

Ms. Zackhra was kind in agreeing to allowing our Audio Visual team to interview her for the Kwaj Connect, where she can be found in Episode 169 of the USAG-KA YouTube channel (click her photo for link) describing her experience as a Kwaj Kid/Ri-Kata student, and providing insights both to those curious as to what it was like to enjoy such a life track, as well as encouraging the current generation of students to stay motivated in anticipation of a rich and full life ahead.

Congratulations, Roana! 🎉

The Department of the Navy INVITES YOU TO PARTICIPATE in the Public Involvement Process for the Navy Conventional Prompt Strike Weapon System Flight Tests DEP

The U.S. Army Space and Missile Defense Command and the U.S. Department of the Navy (Navy) have prepared a Draft Document of Environmental Protection (DEP) to provide a description of proposed missile flight test activities at Kwajalein Atoll, the associated potential environmental effects, and procedures for monitoring, notification, and reporting. Testing would involve flight tests from sea-based launch locations, vehicle flight over the ocean, splashdown of boosters in the open ocean, and payload impact either in broad ocean areas or at U.S. Army test sites at Kwajalein Atoll in the Republic of the Marshall Islands. Within the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the activity would be located at the Ronald Reagan Ballistic Missile Defense Test Site (RTS) within the United States Army Kwajalein Atoll (USAKA). Flight test payloads would impact at target sites within the deep-water Kwajalein Missile Impact Scoring System (KMISS) range and on land at Illeginni Islet. Flight test support activities such as vessel traffic and human activity would occur at RTS as well as within travel routes between test sites and Kwajalein Harbor at Kwajalein Islet.

HOURLASS REPORT

Enjoying being in nature, Melissa says shooting nature helps her find the beauty around her.

She loves capturing that single moment in time. She particularly enjoys being in or around the ocean and loves the ocean's unique range of characteristics from tranquility and calm to the waves crashing and breaking.

What do you take photos of?

I take photos of nature, but mostly seascapes and tropical landscapes.

How long have you been taking photos?

I started taking photos and developing photos in high school. I majored in fine art in college and learned more about art photography there. I have really focused on seascape photography since I moved to Kwajalein.

What do think is the most important part of photography?

Many people focus on the camera equipment, but I really believe that photography is more about the person taking the photo than the equipment. As Henri Cartier-Bresson said:

"It is an illusion that photos are made with the camera... they are made with the eye, heart and head."

What on Kwajalein inspires you?

The ocean, I love the beautiful aqua water that surrounds us. I started shooting seascapes here because I wanted to capture that stunning color.

Where is the most interesting place you have taken photos in the Marshall Islands?

I sailed down to Mae Island in the southern part of Namu Atoll. It was amazing to visit such a remote and beautiful place.

My favorite sepia photos were taken there.

- Namu Outrigger
- Namu Ladder

What is your favorite photo that you have taken on Kwaj?

It's hard to pick just one, they change over time. However, my most popular photo with the Kwaj community is definitely Emon Beach IV. ▼

Chlorine is added as a disinfectant at the Point of Entry into the Reclaimed Water System. No health-based restrictions on the normal use (irrigation, vehicle washing, etc) of reclaimed water are necessary. There is no threat to public health or the environment resulting from this chlorine minimum. During the dry months here on Kwajalein Atoll, we all need to be diligent in conserving non-potable water. In an effort to control water usage please limit the watering of plants to 30 minutes every other day.

Thank you for your efforts in conserving our precious resources.

WEATHER DISCUSSION

Dry and breezy conditions are expected across Kwajalein Atoll through the weekend before the sub-tropical ridge to our north begins to weaken a bit, ultimately relaxing the pressure gradient over the RMI as we head into the beginning of next week. Winds will briefly come down Sunday evening into the low-mid teens, followed by another surge in winds Monday morning into Tuesday, where speeds will creep back into the middle and upper teens for a short period of time. This will cause a slight bump in shower activity on Monday as a result of speed convergence. By mid-week, wind speeds are expected to drop into the low-mid teens and shower chances will be on the rise as the Inter-tropical Convergence Zone (ITCZ) makes a push towards the central RMI. The expected pattern change will be welcomed with the potential for much needed rainfall across the region.

SATURDAY

Partly cloudy with stray showers. Winds NE-E at 14-19 knots with clear-air gusts in the low 20's and occasional higher gusts near any showers.

SUNDAY

Partly cloudy with stray showers. Winds NE-E at 14-19 knots in the morning, decreasing to 12-17 knots during the afternoon with higher gusts possible near showers.

MONDAY

Partly sunny with stray showers. NE-E at 13-18 knots with occasional higher gusts, especially near any showers.

NEXT WEEK

Stray showers to begin the workweek with shower chances likely increasing by mid-week due to the approach of the ITCZ. Winds are expected to sit around the mid-teens and while not expected, a stray thunderstorm cannot be completely ruled out during the second half of the work week. ▴
